

Improving Manager & Employee Relations

Length: 1hr

Delivery modes: Onsite & Virtual Presentation; Pre-recorded tutorial.

Details: Poor working relationships between managers and team members are said to be a leading cause of work-related stress. With a high percentage of employee turnover attributed to a 'bad relationship with manager', steps must be taken to mitigate its causes.

A healthy working relationship between manager and employee is key to building a strong employer brand and creating productive teams.

When relationships become fractured, this can negatively impact team performance, and often hinders the potential of both manager and employee.

Why do relationship breakdowns occur, and what practices can be put in place to help nurture positive interactions between managers and team members?

This seminar seeks to explore these challenges and share concepts that can help build bridges between managers and employees.

Content includes:

- The Power of 'Vulnerable / Servant Leadership'
- Managing Expectations
- Communication strategies
- Recognition strategies

Connect with WORKBLIS to discuss requirements - hi@workblis.com